Subject: Invitation for the consensus meeting of the WatManSup project, 24-30 September, the Netherlands

Dear Prof. Mutiso,

We would like to invite you for the first consensus meeting of the WatManSup project in the Netherlands. This meeting will take place from 24 to 30 September 2006 at different locations in the Netherlands and is organised within the scope of the Partners for Water programme (contract no PVW06001).

Partners for Water is a joint initiative of six departments of the Government of the Netherlands and aims to strengthen the international position of the Dutch water sector by uniting forces. The WatManSup project develops integrated water management support methodologies (IWMSM) for three case study areas: Kenya, Iran and the Netherlands. More information on the project can be found at www.futurewater.nl/watmansup.

As mentioned in the project proposal "the first objective of the consensus meeting is to give the project a quick start by sharing data, information and knowledge. The second objective is to get project partners acquainted with IWMSM. The third objective is to demonstrate foreign partners the Dutch approach towards pro-active water management and IWMSM."

We hope you can be present at this consensus meeting from 24 to 30 September 2006, because sharing ideas and expertise with partners from Iran and the Netherlands is essential to solve water resources problems in Kenya.

Best regards,

Anne van Loon MSc.
